Built to Perform

The harder you push, the harder C80 pushes back. The C80 Curved Manual Treadmill transforms a motor-free curved slat deck into a self-powered HIIT burner across 8 levels of magnetic resistance. Experience a more natural, engaging workout with this self-powered curved treadmill that uses your energy for a dynamic, outdoor run feel with bidirectional movement for versatile muscle conditioning. Engineered to meet the demands of athletes, yet intuitive enough for any fitness level, the curved deck promotes proper running form, while 8 resistance levels let you instantly switch between speed work, strength training, and active recovery. The SOLE C80 features interlocking slats that provide superior traction, stability, and a smooth, natural running feel that closely mimics outdoor terrain. The slat belt design requires less maintenance, reduces friction, and improves energy return for more efficient training with every stride.
